Details Of Sawdust wood pallet Machine

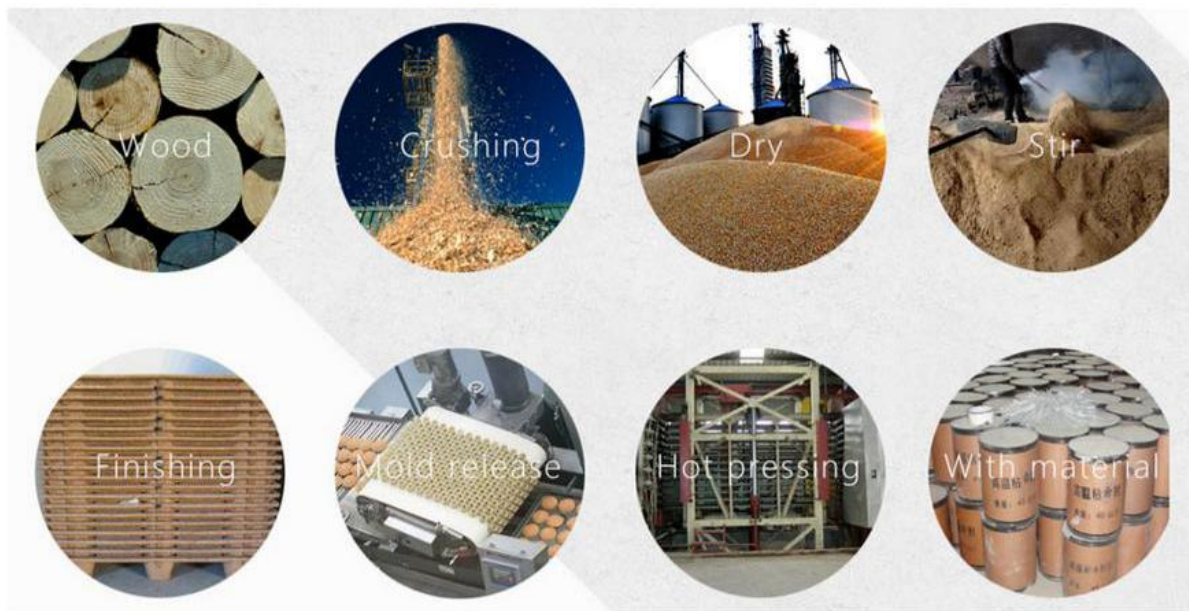

With the developing of economic and environmental system. Fumigation free and inspect free pallets with no water, air and other pollution from wood waste raw material and agriculture waste becomes more and more popular. The pallet is mainly used in package and turnover. It is an ideal product for transportation and warehouse.

The raw material of wood pallet process line includes wood waste, logs, sawdust, shavings and bamboo, cotton stalk and so on.

Wood pallet processing line includes Crushing machine, Drying machine, Glue mixing machine and wooden pallet forming machine. We can design automatic and semi-auto machinery with different capacity according to customer demands and investment capital.

The operation process of this project is very simple. Simply plugged into a power supply for steam or heat conduction oil, can organize production, each hot pressing time is 8 minutes, (by adjusting device of the equipment installation, can be adjusted according to the production specifications).

Each press machine can produce about 140 pieces per day, and only 2 workers can operate 3 presses in a single shift. For crushing and drying, need 2 person to operate. Steam consumption is 0.05 tons per hour for each press machine and 0.5 tons per hour for dryer.
